How to combine traditional taste and modern convenience? Ici&Là has the answer with its range of eco-innovative frozen ready meals: 100% vegetable patties mainly made from green lentils and rice which may replace a portion of meat in a main course. They are good and healthy products: green lentils are rich in iron, proteins and fibers; the cereal-legume complementation providing all benefits of a balanced meal. Moreover these patties are gluten free, lactose free, made up of simple ingredients without preservatives or additives. Deep freezing allows keeping whole gustative and nutritional values. Our current main product, Le Pavé du Velay, incorporates the whole nutritional and gustative qualities of the well known PDO green lentils from Le Puy en Velay. This particular lentil comes from the upland crops in the Haute-Loire department in the central eastern France. It's from this terroir that this lentil acquires its qualities. This concept is made to be applied to other traditional lentil through the world. Our products are environmental friendly. Beyond eco-friendly packaging and process, green lentil farming is beneficial for crops as a natural fertilizer and requires no irrigation at all. Moreover it is good additional income for farmers and favorable for local economies. Heat up in six minutes in a pan, you can easily savor it. If you are sensitive to environmental issues, to sustain a local culture while eating a good and healthy product, Le Pavé du Velay is for you.
